Firm Overview: About the Law Office of Steve Graham

If you are charged with a crime, then you need skilled representation on your side. The Law Office of Steve Graham can provide you with the defense you need in your case.

The Law Office of Steve Graham is a firm that has been representing the criminally accused residents of Washington state for many years. With more than 20 years of experience, and experience as a former prosecutor, Attorney Graham can provide you with the legal assistance that you need, and the information and advice that will help in your criminal case.

This firm offers legal assistance for those who have been arrested and charged with various criminal offenses including DUI, drug crimes, violent crimes, appeals, and many others. Your situation is highly important to this firm, and you can be sure that you will be provided with the aggressive representation that you need on your side if you have been arrested and charged with a crime. Penalties that you could face for conviction may include jail or prison time, hefty fines, license suspension, probation, and others. It is vitally important that you are not convicted of a crime that you did not commit. Criminal convictions can result in failed background checks that haunt a young person for the rest of their life.

Defending Your Rights

It is important to know that you have rights to due process of the law, and this includes protection against unlawful search and seizure. Police officers must follow a certain protocol when obtaining a warrant to search your property, or they must have your permission. If they obtain evidence without your permission, and without a warrant through searching your property, then you may be able to fight alongside a skilled attorney to have this evidence thrown out. You can be sure that as a former prosecutor, Attorney Graham knows how to help you in this situation and to work with you to pursue the outcome that you need. Mr. Graham is also licensed to practice in Federal Court.
